8 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
9 DISTRICT OF NEVADA

10 BRUCE WOLFE,

11 Plaintiff(s),

12 v.

13 CLARK COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF FAMILY
14 SERVICES, et al.,

15 Defendant(s).

Case No. 2:17-cv-02084-JAD-NJK

ORDER

(Docket No. 54)

16 Pending before the Court is the parties' stipulated protective order pertaining to documents in 17 the custody of the Eighth Judicial District Court, Family Division (Docket No. 54), which the Court
18 approved to facilitate discovery in this case. This order reminds counsel that there is a presumption of 19 public access to judicial files and records. A party seeking to file a confidential document under seal 20 must file a motion to seal and must comply with the Ninth Circuit's directives in Kamakana v. City and 21 County of Honolulu, 447 F.3d 1172 (9th Cir. 2006).

22 The Court has adopted electronic filing procedures. Attorneys must file documents under seal
23 using the Court's electronic filing procedures. See Local Rule IA 10-5. Papers filed with the Court 24 under seal must be accompanied with a concurrently-filed motion for leave to file those documents
25 under seal. See Local Rule IA 10-5(a).

26 The Court has approved the blanket protective order to facilitate discovery exchanges. But there 27 has been no showing, and the Court has not found, that any specific documents are secret or 28 confidential. The parties have not provided specific facts supported by declarations or concrete

1 examples to establish that a protective order is required to protect any specific trade secret or other 2 confidential information pursuant to Rule 26(c) or that disclosure would cause an identifiable and 3 significant harm. The Ninth Circuit has held that there is a presumption of public access to judicial files 4 and records, and that parties seeking to maintain the confidentiality of documents attached to 5 nondispositive motions must show good cause exists to overcome the presumption of public access. See 6 Kamakana 447 F.3d at 1179. Parties seeking to maintain the secrecy of documents attached to 7 dispositive motions must show compelling reasons sufficient to overcome the presumption of public 8 access. Id. at 1180. All motions to seal must address the applicable standard and explain why that 9 standard has been met. The fact that a court has entered a blanket stipulated protective order and that 10 a party has designated a document as confidential pursuant to that protective order does not, standing
11 alone, establish sufficient grounds to seal a filed document. See Foltz v. State Farm Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 12 331 F.3d 1122, 1133 (9th Cir. 2003); see also Beckman Indus., Inc. v. Int'l Ins. Co., 966 F.2d 470, 476
13 (9th Cir. 1992).

14 If the sole ground for a motion to seal is that the opposing party (or non-party) has designated 15 a document as subject to protection pursuant to the stipulated protective order, the movant must notify 16 the opposing party (or non-party) at least seven days prior to filing the designated document. The 17 designating party must then make a good faith determination if the relevant standard for sealing is met.
18 To the extent the designating party does not believe the relevant standard for sealing can be met, it shall 19 indicate that the document may be filed publicly no later than four days after receiving notice of the 20 intended filing. To the extent the designating party believes the relevant standard for sealing can be met, 21 it shall provide a declaration supporting that assertion no later than four days after receiving notice of 22 the intended filing. The filing party shall then attach that declaration to its motion to seal the designated 23 material. If the designating party fails to provide such a declaration in support of the motion to seal, the 24 filing party shall file a motion to seal so indicating and the Court may order the document filed in the 25 public record.¹

26
27
28 ¹ In the event of an emergency motion, the above procedures shall not apply. Instead, the movant shall file a motion to seal and the designating party shall file a declaration in support of that motion to seal

1 IT IS ORDERED that counsel shall comply with the requirements of Local Rule IA 10-5, the 2 Ninth Circuit's decision in Kamakana, 447 F.3d 1172, and the procedures outlined above, with respect
3 to any documents filed under seal. To the extent any aspect of the stipulated protective order may 4 conflict with this order or Local Rule IA 10-5, that aspect of the stipulated protective order is hereby 5 superseded with this order.
